ABSTRACT

This bibliography is intended as a convenient resource for those interested in the concept and experience of education vouchers. It lists only the more readily available published materials that may be found in a major library or through the Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC) system. Most mimeographed materials, speeches, products of professional conferences, and monographs have not been included. In very few instances, articles that deal only briefly with vouchers have been included because they offer perspectives not always contained in longer discussions. (Author)
